Pie de Sal3n

Floor lamp

1963

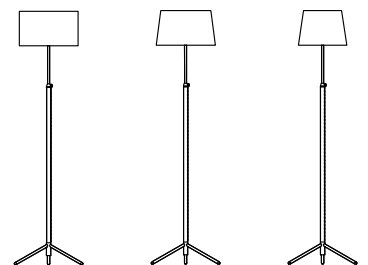

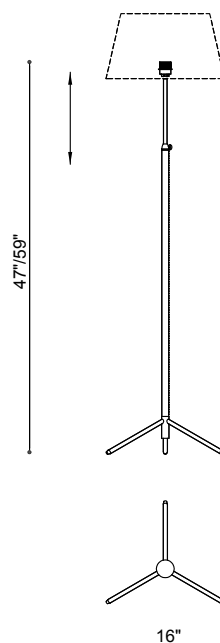

The Pie de Sal3n is the essence of a classic floor lamp. The adjustable leather-covered brass shaft opens out into a base with three points of support. Shades are available in a number of different shapes and materials.

Structural simplicity combined with noble materials are the main qualities of this lamp. The three solid legs of the base are made of polished brass. The shaft is covered in hand-stitched leather and inside houses the wiring and a brass tube which can be used to regulate the shade to the desired height.

Designed by the versatile Jaume Sans, the Pie de Sal3n can be combined with a range of shades which produce different types of light. Ideal for creating a pleasant and serene mood, this lamp has withstood the test of time and the tyranny of fashion to become recognised for what it is: an efficient, well-designed object, stripped down to its bare essentials.
